What kind of car should I rent for my holiday in Italy?

There are plenty of car rental options to choose from depending on your needs. Consider where you're travelling, how many people are travelling and the style of driving you intend to do. You can use the ACRISS system detailed above to find the car that suits your needs. This is an internationally recognised code that will ensure that you get the same standard of vehicle wherever you rent.

Automatic and Manual Transmission

Automatic cars are available in Italy, however they will be more expensive than manual cars and not as readily available.

Collecting at an airport in Italy

At most Italian airports, rental companies will have a desk in the arrivals hall and vehicles will be located within walking distance. However, at smaller airports you may be required to collect your vehicle from a downtown depot. Usually a courtesy transfer will be provided from the airport to the depot in this instance. Auto Europe New Zealand offer all-inclusive prices which generally include any location/airport fees that may otherwise apply. Remember to check at time of booking to ensure your rental will include all airport fees.

Motorhome Rental

Enjoy the convenience of accommodation and transport in one. Auto Europe offers motorhomes for up to six people with collection points across Italy.

Do I need a credit card?

Yes. Car rental suppliers will usually freeze the excess of the vehicle (from €600), which will be refunded when the hire car is returned at the end of the rental period.

Can I collect my rental car in one Italian city and drop it off in another Italian city?

Yes, this is certainly possible, however in most cases there will be a one-way fee payable when you collect your rental. Check with Auto Europe New Zealand before you travel to find out any additional costs.

Rental Vehicle Insurance

Italian law requires all vehicles to have Compulsory Third Party (CTP) injury insurance, although your car rental supplier should already have comprehensive insurance covering their cars. In the case of an accident, it must be reported to the insurance provider immediately, and an excess may be due.

Car Rental companies in Italy will normally include:

- Third Party insurance and compulsory insurance will be included in your car hire rate. This covers you for other people's injury and damage to their vehicle.
- Collision Damage Waiver (CDW): This limits your financial liability for damage to the rented vehicle, and is normally included in the prepaid car hire rates. Rentals are often subject to a liability excess, which can be reduced at the time you collect your rental car or by taking out Auto Europe Excess Refund Insurance.
- Theft Loss Cover: This limits your financial liability for the loss or theft of the rented vehicle and is generally included in the prepaid car rental rates.
- Fire and Liability: This limits your financial liability for bodily injury or death, and is usually included in the prepaid car hire rates.
- Personal Accident Insurance: This covers the driver for personal injuries and is generally not included in your car rental rates. It is considered an optional extra that you can take upon collection of the car.

Auto Europe Excess Refund Insurance

When renting a vehicle, the rental rates include basic insurance. However, in the event that the vehicle is stolen or accidentally damaged, there is usually an insurance excess amount which the driver is liable to pay to the rental company. To avoid any unexpected costs opt for Auto Europe Excess Refund Insurance which will offer a reimbursement for the supplier's damage and theft excess to a maximum for AU$5,000. Simply add this onto your car rental booking prior to departure and you could save thousands of dollars in case of an accident. To find out more, simply call Auto Europe on 0800 885 052 or visit the Auto Europe website.

The Auto Europe Hire Car Excess Refund Insurance is managed by Accident & Health International Underwriting Pty Limited, ABN 26 053 335 952, AFSL 238261 and underwritten by CGU Insurance Limited, ABN 27 004 478 371, AFSL 238291.

Driving in Italy

Licence Requirements

An International Driving licence is required for New Zealand Drivers Licence holders. Contact your local motoring association for further information. Make sure that you take your New Zealand licence with you as well. Car rental companies will require that drivers have held a full licence for at least one year.

Min & Max Age Requirements

Minimum Driving Age: The minimum age to rent a car in Portugal is usually 21, though some suppliers allow drivers from 18 years but with a young driver's fee.

Young Driver's Surcharge: Drivers aged 18 years may be charged from €22 per day, drivers 19-24 years may be charged from €15 per day.

Max Driving Age: Most car rental suppliers in Italy don't have a max driving age, however the max driving age for some car hire companies is 75 years. In these cases, aged drivers may be required to hold a letter from their GP stating they are healthy and fit to drive. Check with Auto Europe New Zealand for further details.

Road Tolls & e-Tags

The Autostrada system is privately owned and drivers must pay tolls. Collect a ticket upon entering the Autostrada, and pay the toll when you exit. When you approach an entrance of the Autostrada, drive to the gate marked 'Biglietto' (ticket), rather than the Telepass or Viacard gate. When you exit you can pay the toll with cash or a credit card.

Parking in Italy

Although parking may be hard to find in larger cities, parking is relatively easy to find everywhere else in Italy. In tourist areas there are usually parking lots in which you can pay to park. There are street signs designating parking and no parking zones.

Blue lines indicate pay parking and a pay and display ticket machine will be located nearby. White lines or no lines indicate free parking. If the parking sign indicates that the parking time is limited, you'll need to display a parking disc the windshield of your vehicle, which should include the time you parked. Parking discs are sometimes included in your car rental; if not they can be purchased from tobacconists. Ask for a "disco orario".

Driving in Italy

- When you collect your car rental, familiarise yourself with the car and its controls before you begin driving. Familiarise yourself with road signs and parking rules, use child safety seats when necessary and always carry your licence with you when you are driving.
- Drive on the right hand side of the road. The driver sits on the left hand side of the car. On multi-lane roads, slower traffic sits in the right lane and lanes to the left are used for overtaking.

Driving Laws in Italy

- Drivers must carry proof of insurance, international and domestic drivers licences and registration papers at all times.
- The maximum speed limit is 130km/hr on the Autostrada, and 110km/hr when wet, and 50km/hr in cities regardless of weather conditions.
- Speed cameras are set up in many places. If you're caught speeding, the fine will be posted to the car rental company, who will pay the fine with the credit card used at the time of collection.
- Children under the age of four must be seated in approved child safety seats and children aged 4 to 12 years must be secured in a suitable child restraint.
- When driving on the Autostrada, you must drive with your headlights on.
- It is illegal to talk on a mobile phone while driving in Italy.
- Drink driving is illegal. The maximum blood alcohol level is 0.05 and DUI drivers can face hefty fines or imprisonment.

Road Signs

Many European countries now follow the Vienna Convention on Road Signs and Signals, where signals and signage are standardised, which make them easier to understand for tourists and locals alike. A few to note are as follows:

Parking areas: Big blue square with a white P in the centre

No Parking: Circular sign with a red border and red diagonal slash through the middle and a blue background

Do not enter: Red circle with a white horizontal bar through the middle

No Vehicles Allowed: White and round with a red circle around the border

One Way: Rectangular sign with an arrow pointing out the appropriate direction and the words senso unico in the arrow

No Passing: Round white sign with a red border and tow cars in the centre, the right car is black and the left car is red.

Can I visit another country and then return the car to Italy?

In most cases, travel to other countries is permitted, though it depends on the vehicle you're driving and the country that you'll be visiting. Check with Auto Europe New Zealand for further details.

Can I collect my rental car in Italy and drop it off in another European country?

Yes, but be aware that an international one way fee will be charged upon collection. This is dependant on the country and the distance from the collection point. Auto Europe New Zealand will advise of any international one way fees at the time of booking.

Cars cannot be taken into Venice, so where is the best place to pick up, drop off or park my rental car?

Auto Europe New Zealand has car hire depots in Venice's Piazzale Roma, which is opposite the ferry terminal that will take you into Venice. Piazza Roma has a city owned parking station where you can safely leave your car.

Can I drive my rental vehicle in Cinque Terre?

There are some sections of the Cinque Terre where cars are not permitted. If you choose to travel to Cinque Terre, you may park your car outside the towns and explore these places on foot. Drive with caution and confidence on this route, as the roads are winding and narrow.

Can I extend my car rental in Italy after I have picked up the vehicle?

Yes, if you decide you would like to extend your rental, call the depot where you initially collected the vehicle and if the car is available to be extended. If they are able to assist, you will be offered additional days at the local rate.

Should I hire a GPS for driving in Italy?

GPS units can also be requested directly through some suppliers, however this will be at their own rates.

Self Drive Tours: Northwest Italy

Tour the Alpine Valleys

Begin this tour in Ivrea just north of Turin and head toward the famous Carema vineyards. Continue further north to Point St Martin, where you'll be able to see an ancient Roman bridge. From here, travel east to Gaby and see the Neil Falls and further on to Gressoney la Trinite at the foot of Mount Rosa. Here you can take in great skiing or snowboarding in winter and fantastic hiking or water sports in the summer.

If you head west from Point St Martin, you'll come across Bard, etched into a deep narrow gorge at the head of the Aosta Valley. There's a magnificent fort and lovely cobbled streets to explore. Further along, you'll get to Verres, home to the Verres Castle which was built in the fourteenth century. Drive through Emarese and Brusson and you'll arrive at the ski resort of Champuloc, which is a quiet and pristine ski resort town on Mount Rosa.

Tour Lake Como

This route follows just one section of Lake Como, and should be handled with care, as the roads can be narrow and somewhat windy. Don't let this deter you, as it's well worth the effort. Begin the tour at Lecco and follow the SS583 through Moregge, Onno and Limonta to the town of Bellagio located at the tip of the peninsula that juts into Lake Como. This lovely town is one of the main tourist centres on the lake and the main centre for the lake's boat services. Follow the SS583 back down the west coast of the peninsula through Lezzenzo, Careno and Blevio to the town of Como.

From Como, drive north again on the SS340 through Cernobbio, Ossuccio and Tremezzo to Mennagio. Mennagio is a little quieter than other towns along the lake, but has great restaurants, cafés and gelaterias.

Self Drive Tours: Southern Italy

The Amalfi Coast

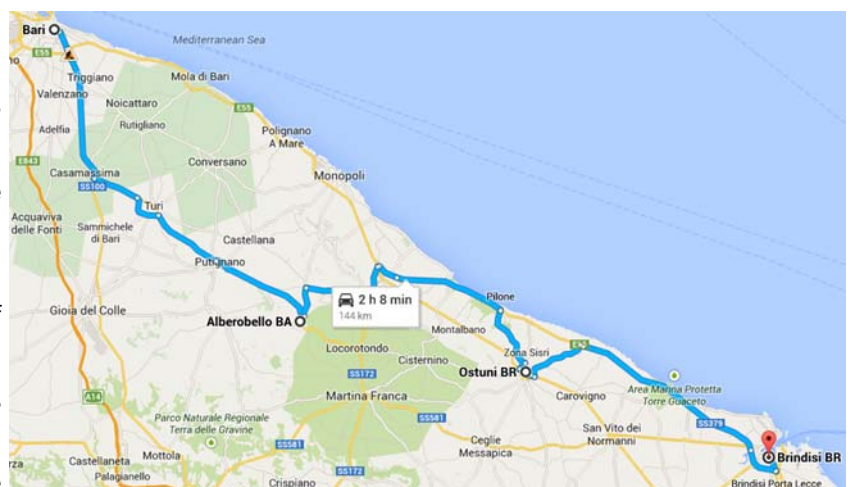

The Amalfi Coast stretches from Vietri sul Mare to Positano along the southern side of the Sorrentine Peninsula in the Campania region of Italy. This is one of the most famous drives in Europe, due to its rugged terrain and the colourful towns that dot the coastline. The Amalfi Coast is also listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The road is winding and narrow, so be confident and take your time around the bends. In most cases, once you arrive at a town it's a good idea to park your car and explore on foot.

To drive the entire route, begin the Amalfi Coast tour starting from Vietri sul Mare and follow the SS163 west along the coast, along through the town of Cetara, and the seaside resort of Maiori. Then head inland to Ravello where you can visit the Villa Cimbrone to catch its well renowned views. Continue on to Amalfi, where you can explore the towns quaint squares, buzzing piazzas and the Vagliendola region. Marvel at white houses that cling precariously to the rock face. Back in the car, drive to Conca and through to Praiano and onto Positano. Explore the town and take a boat trip out to Il Galli.

From Positano, drive inland through Coli di Fontanelle and Sant Agnello and onto Sorrento. This gorgeous town is perched on cliffs looking directly out over the Bay of Naples, and holds plenty of cafés, cathedrals and museums to keep you busy. Wander the streets of the old town, and enjoy this sublime region of Italy.

Bari to Brindisi

Start this self drive tour in Bari. Visit the Bari Vecchia, Bari's Old City, boasting a beautiful medieval quarter and the cathedral of Saint Nicolaus. Drive south on the SS100 through Cellamare and Casamassima and onto the town of Alberobello. Here you can see the World Heritage listed Trulli, amazing buildings constructed in the 1600s from dry-walled limestone blocks. Further along, you'll come across the gleaming white town of Ostuni, perched on a hill in the olive groves of the Trullo Valley. After Ostuni, head north toward the coast, then travel south east along the SS379, to the city of Brindisi where you can enjoy the white, sandy beaches and jagged cliffs.

Sicily & Sardinia

Sicily is the largest island on the Mediterranean Sea and the place where Italy, Africa and Greece come together. Here you will see ancient Italian and Greek ruins, amazing beach resorts, beautiful baroque architecture, magnificent cuisine, a smouldering Mt Etna, brilliant blue coastline and buzzing cities. You can also visit Sardinia, an island with unparalleled natural beauty, magnificent national parks and beaches with crystal clear waters. The hinterland is covered with citrus groves, and pastures of grazing cattle and sheep. The people of Sardinia have a laidback lifestyle and happy embrace the island's wonderful mix of cultures.

Self Drive Tours: Sicily & Sardinia

Eastern Tour of Sicily

There are many parts of Sicily to travel, as it is quite large, but this guide will bring you along the island's east coast. Begin in Messina, where you can see the Church of the Annunziata dei Catalani and the Fontana del Nettuno. Head south toward Taormi, home to popular beaches on the Ionian Sea, as well as an ancient Greek theatre, lively bars and great restaurants.

Drive on past the island nature reserve of Isola Bella. You'll be able to view Mt Etna to your right as you head south to Catania. After a stop in Catania, travel through Augusta to Syracuse, a beautiful city with ancient monuments dating back to 734BC, placed alongside excellent hotels and fascinating scenery.

Continue on to Noto, famous for its fine Baroque style buildings and magnificent churches. Next stop is Modica, home to ancient medieval buildings that cling to the edges of the steep gorge on both sides. The last stop is at Ragusa, built on a wide limestone hill and home to more gorgeous Baroque architecture.

Sardinia's Southern Coast

The entire island of Sardinia is surrounded by brilliant beaches and crystal clear waters. To see the southeast corner, drive from Cagliari along the SP17 through Terra Mala, Geremeas and onto Solanas, then follow the road onto Simius. Continue following the road on through Cala Pira and onto Costa Rei.

Alternatively, head southwest from Cagliari through Sarroch and Pula, then up to the islands of Sant'Antioco and San Pietro. From San Pietro, head back to mainland Sardinia and visit the city of Iglesias.

Stay Healthy & Stay Safe

Stay Healthy

New Zealand does not have a reciprocal healthcare agreement with Italy or any of our other countries of accreditation. Private health insurance is therefore required for emergency (average costs for a 7 day hospitalisation are approx Euro 3500), and non-emergency treatment from a GP or dentist. You will normally have to pay for services rendered, as well as any medicines you need. Doctors' fees are generally higher than in New Zealand. Pharmacies and chemists carry most prescriptions, however it can be expensive, so it's best to have your prescriptions filled before you go. Carry these medicines along with a letter from your GP explaining your medical conditions.

Tap water is generally safe to drink, but avoid water where there is a sign stating "Acqua Non Potabile" it means that the water is unsafe to drink.

Stay Safe

Most visits to Italy are free of trouble, however, in major tourist areas and some big cities such as Rome and Naples, pickpockets and petty thieves operate. It is always advisable to remain alert and practice the same safety precautions you employ at home.

Keep your valuables out of view in your parked car to avoid potential theft. Don't show off expensive jewellery and cash in public. Keep your money and credit cards in a safe place. Respect the local customs and laws.

Money Matters

Currency

The Euro is the local currency of Italy.

EURO (€) = 100 cents.

Notes are in denominations of €500, 200, 100, 50, 20, 10 and 5.

Coins are in denominations of €2 and €1, and 50, 20, 10, 5, 2 and 1 cents.

Currency Exchange

The best places to change cash in Italy are banks or post offices, where they offer the best rates of exchange. You can also exchange cash at the airport or a Bureau de Change, however the exchange rates may be higher.

Banking Hours

Banks are open in Italy Monday to Friday 8.35am to 4.00pm and closes for an hour over lunch. In major cities and tourist areas, some banks are open over the lunch period. Banks do not open on Saturday or Sunday.

ATMs

ATMs are called Bancomat and are available in cities and small towns across Italy. Look for the ATMs that show the Cirrus or Bankmate symbol as these will accept foreign debit cards.

Credit Cards

Major credit cards are widely accepted across Italy — particularly Amex, Visa and Mastercard — and can be used for most purchases.

Tipping

Tipping at restaurants and bars is not expected, however if you believe the service was exceptional, a 10% tip will always be appreciated.

Porters at major hotels will expect a tip, which is usually no more than €5.

Taxi drivers generally do not receive tips.
